Sea Tutors is an elite private tutoring company, specialising in full-time private tuition for those who travel extensively. With more than 30 years of expertise in tutoring placements, Sea Tutors has seamlessly adapted its renowned academic structure to cater to families seeking a distinctive educational journey beyond traditional boundaries. The tutoring company's commitment to excellence in education means they can offer positions onboard that are distinct from their land-based counterparts. The success of placements in this distinctive setting relies on a specialised expertise that can only be acquired through practical experience, and Sea Tutors prides itself on possessing just that. Having provided elite tutoring services to families seeking respite from conventional environments, Sea Tutors seamlessly integrates its wealth of knowledge into the dynamic context of life on a yacht.

With a repertoire that spans full-time schooling, exam preparation and support for children with learning differences such as dyslexia and dyspraxia, Sea Tutors is adept at tailoring its services to fit the unique requirements of each family. Whether it's crafting a project-based curriculum that aligns with the travel environment or addressing a combination of educational needs, Sea Tutors is well-equipped to source the ideal teacher for the task. With two full-time staff members and numerous tutors boasting personal yacht experience, Sea Tutors occupies a specialised niche in the private tutoring sector. The fusion of academic proficiency and practical knowledge of maritime life positions Sea Tutors as a truly exceptional entity.

The judging panel was particularly impressed by the efforts made at Sea Tutors to personalise the tutoring they offer, resulting in students being able to access learning whatever their ability or approach to academic work. Sea Tutors excels in matching families with the best tutors, ensuring that each tutor is meticulously handpicked to align with the unique needs and preferences of each student. The key to their success lies in a bespoke approach to tutoring, acknowledging the distinctiveness of each family and student. The tutors, aside from being outstanding educators with impressive subject knowledge, often bring additional qualifications and experiences to the table, allowing them to fully harness the learning potential of the voyage.

Sea Tutors seamlessly integrates education with maritime life, offering expert services for families seeking unique experiences on the high seas.
